Flexible

Radius permits you to deliver web pages with your corporate look and feel. Design your own site or let Highgate's web designers do it for you – you have the complete control over your presentation to your members.

Radius' multi-layer design ensures that the independent HTML client and internet banking engine are separated from the core banking system, allowing Radius to integrate with any core banking system. You do not need to have a Highgate core banking solution to use Radius.

Call Highgate and let us show you how Radius can help your members!
